

BAHAY NI LOLA: COMMON SUPERSTITIOUS BELIEFS OF SELECTED HOUSEOWNERS IN CONSTRUCTING HOUSES IN ABUCAY BATAAN

MONALIZA BEATRIZ CEREZO¹, CHARRY DELA ROSA², JOYZ BEATRIZ SIBUG³

<http://orcid.org/0000-0002-5544-216X>

3200070@letranbataan.edu.ph

Colegio de San Juan de Letran – Bataan
Dominican Hills Ave, Abucay, Bataan, Philippines

ABSTRACT

This study seeks to understand the house owners' and professionals' perspective in terms of the superstitious beliefs in building houses in Abucay, Bataan. To support the objective, the researchers come up with a decision to conduct a video conference interview with the house owners living within Abucay and chosen professional that is involved in architectural and civil works. The general insights of the respondents to the superstitious beliefs in building houses is that they don't usually act in accordance with the superstitious beliefs in their houses, but they still respect the beliefs of others. The respondents still follow some beliefs if they've been told to, especially with the professional which experienced numerous of clients who follow superstitious beliefs. This qualitative research set off as an instrument on manifesting the conceptions of the house owners and professionals.

Keywords: houses, perspective, house owners, professionals, beliefs